GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK

ASSOCIATIONS STAND TO LOSE BIG MONEY.

The Courts May Clear Up the Atmosphere in a Few Days by Deciding What Is Permissible Under the New Law-Recording of Wagers Chief Stumbling Block.

Recing men who are in a position to know said last night that they expected develop-ments within the next ten days that would remove from the present situation many tangles. They said that when the courts have passed on the various points in dispute as set forth by the new betting law it would be clearly shown that betting between individuals can be carried on provided no record is made of the wagers. The recording of wagers is the only problem that appears difficult of solution. If a layer or a bettor can carry a memorandum of a wager in his head, racing men who have consulted eminent egal authorities say the new law will not apply to such cases.

But as "memory bets" are not feasible if any great amount of business is to be transacted, it seems as if wagering under such conditions would be reduced to a minimum. This means of course that the attendance the tracks will fall off to such an extent that the racing associations, if they decide to continue through the present season, will be forced to reduce the purses for overnight races and also cut the added money in the various stakes. Even under this arrangement the racing associations probably would lose big money, but in the meantime, it is said, the new law could be carried to the Court of Appeals to be tested as to its contitutionality.

The Gravesend meeting will end next Thursday, and no change will be made in the programme as to the purses. The Coney Jockey Club's spring meeting will open on Friday and is scheduled to continue until July 4. It has been stated by one of the governors of the club that all of the stakes will be run off and that possibly the overnight purses will be reduced about one-half. It is estimated for the meeting at the Bay that the stakes alone will amount to nearly $175,000. If the public does not patronize the track under the present adverse condi-tions it is plain that the meeting will be conducted at a heavy loss. For that matter the Coney Island Jockey Club has just expended $200,000 in improvements and on Friday will present a practically new track for the sport. But unless betting between individuals can be made possible under the new law, nobody believes that people will pay admission at the rate of $3 apiece to see the horses run.

The situation, therefore, may be said to law and just what constitutes a misdemeanor. evidence. They insist that if no money passes when a "mouth wager" is made and no col ticket is handed to a bettor, legal proof that a bet has been made is lacking and that ersons arrested for such transactions cannot e convicted.

These lawyers also declare that as soon as a number of such cases have been thrown ut of court because of a lack of legal evidence, betting under a new form will go on. They say that layers will have to devise new methods of keeping track of wagers in order cash betting and sheet writing cannot prevail again, which, of course, will make speculation articularly hard for the public in general.

From whatever point of view one looks at the present situation, it is apparent that racing has received a severe blow. Many turfmen, were it not for the several test cases which will be taken before a Supreme Justice within the next day or two, would throw up the sponge immediately shipping horses to tracks in other parts of the country or in Canada. For that mat-ter a number of layers left here last night for Montreal, where they can do business

There is talk of organizing a sporting club on the lines of Tattersall's in London. Those who have discussed this plan believe a club composed of reputable men who folthe turf can exist without interference. No person without financial responsibility could get membership, and business on the races could be transacted away from the track, perhaps in New Jersey, following personal credit wagers made at the race-

The passage of the new law was so unexpected among racetrack men, it is said, that no plans were devised when the axe fell. That is why everybody has been in the air for the last three days. The Jockey Club, however, has begun to get busy, and it was said last night that prompt action would follow one way or another.

Meanwhile sporting men insist that the new law instead of suppressing so-called racetrack gambling will simply increase it. They declared yesterday that inside of a week there would be more poolrooms and hand-books operating in this city than ever before. So long as the Jockey Club kept back the desired information the rooms for seven months in the year could not do business here. That was why the poolroom men spent their money and used their political fluence to have the cew law passed.

Peter De Lacy, who has been fighting the etracks for years, is quoted as saying that he and other poolroom men have new squared accounts with the Jockey Club. Other pool-room men say that if the Jockey Club had refused to enter into a compact with the Rev. Dr. Slicer to kill off the rooms, there would have been no trouble. The racetracks, however, have now decided to make no further efforts to suppress the information, with the result that the rooms are expected to be going full blast. The room keepers say that while imprisonment is the penalty for doing business in the city, they will make it extremely difficult for the police to secure tangible evidence that wagers have been recorded. As a matter of fact they say the patrons of the rooms and not the room keepers will be liable smuch as the former make their own records of bets in the city places.

William S. Devery, former Chief of Police, says the new betting law is one of the worst pleces of legislation that ever came out of Albany. He declares it will kill betting at the tracks and may close them, but that it will open hundreds of poolrooms here. Devery says there are 100,000 racetrack bettors in this city and that with the tracks tied up the poolroom men will go to extremes to handle this immense amount of business.

"Gov. Hughes has boosted the poolroom ess more than he has any idea of, Devery said yesterday, "and he has come pretty near killing a great industry. The police will have their hands full if they try se all the rooms that will spring up here in the next few days."

The closing of the many State fairs will not lease the farmers, it is said. The farmers all lose a large revenue if the tracks go out of business. They have been cutting up about $4,000,000 each year in feed bills, which will soon be wiped out. The stallions placed up the State by the Jockey Club's Breeding bureau probably will be sold outright and no more will be provided.

organization of a Personal Liberty Club in Brooklyn last Saturday night is said to be the forerunner of a movement that will extend all over the State. Those who have the matter in hand say they will seek the support of baseball men who want Sunday games, of theatrical managers who desire to give Sunday performances, of brewers and Neither colony did more than unload and house shells. The Cornell men brought with them a 22 foot coaching launch fitted out with a 25 horse-power engine. deal of the family excursion business that has fallen to his lot because of the size of the old Cornell launch.

For the first time the Wisconsin folks brought a coaching launch with them. The shells of the Pennsylvania crew arrived today by train, while the Ben Franklin came by water. The Pennsylvania crews are expected to arrive to-morrow afternoon, while the Syracuse contingent is expected on Tuesday. The Cornell party consists of the varsity and freshman eights and two fours and are occupying their old quarters at Oakes.

Wisconsin brought a varsity eight, freshman eight and four substitutes. The carsmen are in charge of E. P. Ten Eyck, coach, Dr. C. P. Hutchins, physical director, and Prof. Angell. They will not enter the four cared race. When the Badgers passed through Syracuse this morning a party of Syracuse crew men were at the station and cheered the Westerners.

Columbia's houseboat arrived this morning and was anchored two miles north of the big bridge. The oarsmen spent a busy day putting it in shape, and ate their first meal there to-night. They also slept in the houseboat quarters to-night, leaving the Nelson House, where they have been living.

New London, Conn., June 14.—The yawl Vigilant, the famous America cup defender, had all the Harvard oarsmen aboard this afternoon and a sail on Long Island Sound was enjoyed by the Cambridge athletes. Ferry and also in New London in the morning and lounging about Broadview the rest of the day.

Charles Morgan, who stroked the Harvard varsity four oar in Cambridge and went to No. 2 in the boat after his arrival here, E. Cutler taking his seat, has returned suddenly to Cambridge, and it is not yet known who will fill his position temporarily. This boat its causing Jim Wray no end of worry, as the time for settling upon a quartet is rapidly drawing nigh and the oarsmen in the shell have not been definitely decided upon.

ROWING.

Atlantic Boat Club's Regatta on the Hackensack-Plaisted's New Ideas.

A rowing fixture with the most interesting competitive feature this week will be that of the Atlantic Boat Club on the Hackensack River next Saturday. The programme as planned contains an open four oared barge race, which has attracted two crack crews from the Harlem River. One, from the Harlem R. C., is composed of John Hoben, stroke; J. D. V. Breen, 3; John J. Ryan, 2, and Hugo Nevenbacher, bow. The crew is coached by Billy Cody. The other is from the Nassau B. C. and is stroked by W. Mehrhoff, with the Stettig brothers in the waist of the boat. Two other crews are assured-the shoon Respers who fear prohibition and of all other classes of business men who believe that reformers should not be permitted to rule them with an iron hand.

The action of the police at Gravesen d last Friday and Saturday has come in for much severe criticism. Many persons said esterday that the police had no legal right to make racetrack patrons keep on the move, in view of the fact that they paid admission to private property and were in no respect violators of any law. Racegoers as a rule are peaceable citizens who do not care for trouble That is why rough handling by cops has not been appreciated by them.

It is said that the fact that liuger is sold inside of the racetrack enclosure makes it rossible for the police to invade the property, but that if the bar was closed only the Sheriff and his deputies could get past the gates

NEW HOME CHOSEN FOR NEWARK ORGANIZATION.

New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club Moves to Larger Headquarters on July 1-Ten Mile Private Speed Course Near

Bridgeport Being Discussed-Gossip. The board of trustees of the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club has found a new home for the Newark organization, which will move from its present clubhouse at Broad and Chestnut streets on July 1. The new headquarters will be the University Club building, East Park street and Park place, which will be fitted up est-scially for the use of the automobilists. The present club-house has the disadvantage of being removed somewhat from the centre of the city and would have been outgrown in the near future It was plenty large enough when the club is growing very rapidly the trustees decided to get larger quarters.

A. B. Le Massena, secretary of the club. has been having great success in the cam-paign to bring the membership strength up to an even thousand on June 15, and he hopes to have 1,100 members when the organization moves into its new headquarters. At a meeting of the trustees last week forty new members were elected, five associate and thirty-five active, among the latter being Dr Schuyler Skaats Wheeler, former vice-presi-dent of the Automobile Club of America and at present a member of the A. C. A. board of governors.

The organization of a club to build a great ten mile automobile speed course on a tract of marsh land near Bridgeport is being discussed by members of the Automobile Club of Bridgeport and business men of that clty. The Macdonald and Bernhard Setzer started the talk, and it is estimated that the course could be constructed for about $50,000. The success of the Sport Hill hill climb recently has helped to increase interest in the special track project. A member of the club in discussing the project says:

"The Lordship Park tract is peculiar. It is all marsh land and it is believed the material could be dug up and formed into a road leaving a moat on each side. In this way the course would be guarded effectively, as with a stream six or eight feet wide on each side the crowd would be kept off the course without the need of militia, policemen or guards of any kind. The water would be a barrier, and yet spectators would be near enough to watch the contests closely.

"Another important feature is that the ground is such that a large grand stand could be built on a natural elevation from which could be observed every mile of the course. If, for instance, it were a 300 mile race, like the Vanderbit cup event, spectators in the grand stand could watch all the cars on every part of the course and an interest would be given to the races now impossible at any track or on any road in the United States.

"It is believed competitive events by fast automobiles would attract big crowds from all parts of New England and New York and that financially a good thing could be realized. The absolute freedom from interference by law that is applicable to the public highway, the absolute protection of spectators, owing to the course at once from a centrally located grand stand, with ample space for parking purposes, are the chief points of excellence in the proposed Lordship Park course. It is estimated that such a road could be built for $50,000."

"Senator" W. J. Morgan of the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club in Newark, who promoted the first race meets at Ormond Beach and the Mount Washington hill climbing contest, was elected president of the recently organized New Jersey Motor Cycle Club, which has its headquarters in Newark. In addition to his other lines of activity Mr. Morgan is an inspector for the New Jersey. State Motor Vehicle Commissioner, and perhaps for this latter reason has at various times taken on himself the task of defending the motor vehicle legislation of New Jersey. His arguments favoring the law do not seem to have converted the members of the motor cycle organization, for the club recently sent out the following announcement:

The motor cyclists of the State of New Jersey, like the wheelmen of former days, know what they want in the matter of legislation, and if it is unfavorable to them they propose to have it amended to suit their views. In line with this view, the New Jersey Motor Cycle Club has pledged itself to the support of a test case to try before the court of last resort if necessary the constitutionality of the automobile law of the State of New Jersey and particularly its recent amendments. At the last meeting of the New Jersey Motor Cycle Club the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas the old automobile laws of the State of New Jersey and the recent amendments thereto passed by the last Legislature are undoubtedly

The New York Nationals are to play an exhibition game with an all star aggregation on the grounds of the defunct Union League team at Elizabeth next Sunday. Arthur Irwin has got a lease on the grounds and he intends to have a major league club play there every Sunday for the remainder of the season.

A feature of the season in both big leagues is the remarkably large number of pitchers that have been used. In half of the American League games up to the first of June a change of iwiriers was necessary. The proportion of games in the National League for the same length of time in which a change of pitchers has been made is still greater, being fully a third more than contests in which no change in the box was made. There have been all the way from three to seven pitchers to a game. The man who has to keep record officially of pitchers wins and leagues has a mammoth and intricate task on his hands.

The Crescent A. C.'s Invitation Tourns

ment and Others of the Week. One of the crack tournaments of the lawn tennis season, the Crescent A. C. invitation series, is scheduled to begin this afternoon at Bay Ridge. The leading players of the East will take part in round robin doubles. The teams invited are F. B. Alexander and H. H. Hackett, the national champions; William A. Larned, national singles champion, and George L. Wrenn, Jr., Irving C. Wright and E. P. Larned, Theodore R. Pell and C. F. Watson, Jr., and Raymond D. Little and Edgar W. Leonard. The matches will run through the week. It is likely that there will be some singles matches interspersed but the round robin doubles will be the greatest attraction.

Leonard Brooks, chairman of the laws tennis committee of the Crescent A. C., says the demand for cards of admission to the matches has been larger than ever before for this tournament. This is taken to mean matches has been larger than ever bestyler for this tournament. This is taken to mean that the interest in lawn tennis in general is spreading to the invitation tournaments foo.

The courts in front of the grand stand at Ray Ridge are in good condition. Mone of the club players has been permitted to use the piece of turf on which the courts for the invitation matches will be marked, and the grass has been clipped and the ground rolled until the surface is like a putting greer. The conditions under foot for the matches are, it is thought, as near perfect as a good ground keeper can make them. The draw for the matches has been arranged as follows:

To-day, 4 P. M., F. B. Alexander and H. H. Hackett vs. Irving C. Wright and E. P. Larned; 5:15 P. M., William A. Larned and George L. Wrenn, Jr., vs. T. R. Pell and C. F. Watson, Jr. To-morrow, 4 P. There are two other tournaments which begin this afternoon. One is at the Amackassin Club in Yonkers, which has an elaborate programme. There will be singles and doubles for hoth men and women, mixed doubles and men's consolation singles. The chief feature of the tournament is the Tallant cup for men's singles, a challenge trophy won last year by Gustave L. Touchard of the New York L. T. C. The winner in the tournament will be called upon to meet Touchard. The committee in charge of the tournament is William S. Langford, W. A. Dally, Frederick H. The other tournament at the New Haven Lawn Club. The cup offered there has been mon once each by Frederick C. Colston, Karl H. Behr and Herbert L. Westfall. The players who took part in the New England championships will begin on the courts of the Trenton Cougtry Club. The holder of the title in that section is Dr. P. B. CAMERON WINS AT VAILSBURG. Candidate for Olympic Honors Takes Two Cycle Baces.

George G. Cameron of the Irish-Americans won both the amateur cycle events at the Vailaburg track in Newark yesterday after-noon in impressive style. He has been riding well lately and his admirers hope he will be sent to London for the Olympic championships, as he is one of those in the supplementary list prepared by the committee and would have a good chance of scoring in the sprint races. He defeated Neuschafer by two and a half lengths in the two-thirds mile sprint races. He deteated Neuschater by two and a half lengths in the two-thirds mile open, while in the secret distance race at four and a half miles he led Goerke over the line by two lengths.

Walter A. Bardgett had hard luck in the Bardgett stakes, half a mile, open professional event. He and Root fell just after they had started on the last lap of the deciding heat. Fogler led around to the last turn, where he gave a few extra kicks at his pedals and pulled away from Kramer. The latter sprinted after Fogler, and just caught him as they crossed the tape, having less than two inches lead as he finished. Many of the spectators were sure Fogler had won, so there was a lot of hissing when it was announced that Kramer had finished first.

There was an extra final heat for riders who finished third and fourth in the trial heats of the Bardgett race. Oliver Dorlon and Floyd Krebs fought out the finish and the latter won. Fogler and Kramer were the scratch men in the final heat of the one mile handicap. John Bedell took the lead on the last turn and won by two lengths. The BROOKLYN A. U. GAMES. Trinity Club Wins Point Honors at Ulmer Park Contests.

The Brooklyn Athletic Club annual pionic and games, postponed from Memorial Day, were held yesterday at Ulmer Park. There was a good gathering of spectators and they enjoyed every item on the programme. One of the best contests of the day was the mile and a half run. E. P. Carr of the Xavier A. The New York Martinals are to play an exhibition game with an all star aggregation on the grounds of the defunct Union League team at Elizabeth next Sunday. Arthur Irwin has got a lease est the grounds and he intends to have a major league club play there every Sunday for the remarkably large number of pitchers that have been uned. HIGHLANDERS ALMOST WIN

LEAD THE WHITE SOX UP TO EIGHTH INNING.

Then Jones Rings In Substitute Batter and John Anderson Does the Rest-Lake, Effective for Seven Bounds, Loses for Himself by Bad Threw of Easy Grounder Cuicago, June 14 .- The White Sox, rallying desperately when they seemed completely beaten, again routed Griffith's man to-day, winning a sensational battle. Up to the eighth Joe Lake was effective, striking out eighth Joe Lake was effective, striking out seven batemen and easily checking the batting rallies. Then Jones sent in his reserves. A hit by Hahn, a pass to Jones and a mighty swat by Anderson tied up the game and then Lake lost for himself by poor handling of an easy grounder. Griffith's men opened fire on the Sox in a vigorous fashion. Niles walked, and two men died painlessly. Then Chase put a past single back of first, and Ball Chase put a neat single back of first, and Ball drove a roaring triple far down the field. Two runs resulted. Quiet followed until the fourth. Here, with one gone, Ball walked, Stahl singled, Conroy sacrificed and Kleinow delivered the goods with a vicious drive past first, scoring two more runs.

The White Sox, who had been fanning vainly, now made their first appearance of vainly, now made their first appearance on the map. Jones pickled a hit and Atz popped to Keeler, who threw wild, letting Jones reach second. Anderson breezed, and Donohue shot a two bagger over the gardens, scoring Jones. Manuel went on the slab in the fifth and stopped the visitors. Lake began fanning people again, but was interrupted in the sixth, when with two out Atz hit into the crowd and Anderson scored him with a whack past short.

Jones was desperate when the eighth came round. He sent Hahn up to bat for Manuel, and Eddie responded with a single. Keeler cared for Dougherty, and Jones was passed, Atz grounded to Chase, and it was all up to Anderson. John's bat orashed into the ball. Hemphill ran, jumped and reached in vain. The score was tied and John reached second. Donohue gave Lake an easy bounder. Joe fumbled and threw crazily just as Donohue bumped into Chase. The ball got by, and Anderson scored. A superb stop by Chase of Conroy's bad throw ended the inning. The score:

SHAMROCK'S MAIDEN BACE. Started Poorly, but Won From Last Year's

Champion by Five Minutes.

Shamrock, Sir Thomas Lipton's new racing yacht, has made a good start in the British regattas, and the critics have commented favorably on the yacht. This boat is known as just plain Shamrock—not Shamrock IV. It is the first yacht Sir Thomas has owned for racing in home waters. Each of his as just plain Shamrock—not Shamrock IV. It is the first yacht Sir Thomas has owned for racing in home waters. Each of his other Shamrocks was built for America cup racing. Sir Thomas says he keeps the numerals for international racing, and Shamrock IV. is to be the next cup challenger when he can arrange a match.

Yachting papers from London contain reports of the first two races in which the Shamrock took part and in each she finished first. The first was from Southend to Harwich and was sailed in a light wind. The other starters were White Heather, last year's champion, Brynhilde and Nyria. The starters would have little difficulty in holding her own. The start was a poor one for the Shamrock. She got away last, handicapped three minutes. It was windward work and the new yacht showed up well. She gradually overhauled the leaders, passed them one by one and won the race, beating the White Heather's minutes 24 seconds and the Nyria in minutes 3 seconds.

The second race was sailed off Harwich and all got away well. The White Heather Heather's minutes as seconds. The seconds.

The second race was sailed off Harwich and all got away well. The White Heather held a slight lead until nearing the last leg of the course. The White Heather and Shamrock, with their booms off to starboard, had to pass a bell buoy on the starboard hand. The Shamrock just came up to leeward of the White Heather as that yacht was gybing and took the inner berth, with the result that both touched. Shamrock then led home, finishing first by 1 minute 8 seconds, but she was disqualified for the foul.

In this regarta the British schooner Cicely raced against the three German yachts Meteor, Clara and Susanne. The prize was a cup presented by the Prince of Wales, and it was won by the Cicely.

Commenting on the Shamrock, the Yachteman says:

"Sir Thomas Linton's new 28 meter yacht.

cup presented by the Prince of Wales, and it was wen by the Cicely.

Commenting on the Shamrock, the Yachtamer says:

"Sir Thomas Lipton's new 28 meter yacht, Shamrock, has been the object of the greatest interest among yachting men and others for some time past, and for some indefinite reason—as we mentioned some weeks ago—it was thought on the Scient that White Heather had nothing to fear from her. That has all been changed, however, by the result of the first match of the season. Granted a few flukes and a light breeze, Lipton's yacht made a wonderfully good debut. To work into first place from last, after a bad start, in a 'hot class, and to win by over five minutes, indicates the probability of a very long string of winning flags at the end of the season. To win her maiden race is always the ambition of both owners and designers. The 'new broom' does not always sweep clean in yachting, and when it does much glory—transient though it may be—attaches to the designer, the builder and the crew.

"That White Heasher, Brynhild and Nyria are not quite out of the hunt was fairly well proved at Harwich. Brynhild is salling in vastly better form then she showed last year. We shall be greatly mistaken if she does not prove herself a fairly good match for Shamrock in a strong, true breeze over a course such as that of Belfast Lough. Nyria too will often run the new boat close—that is already apparent. As to White Heather—well so far we see no reason to believe that she will not come out top of the 23 meter class at the end of the season. At the present time she has been beaten twice by Shamrock—The 23 meter class will be watched with great interest this year, for it bids fair to be not only the biggest but the most interesting of the International Yacht Racing Union classes. In it we have an old boat with a statutory time allowance of seven seconds a mile struggling against a vessel which has now met her match (if that) in Shamrock, and another which may prove herself to be the pick of the fleet in a true, hard breeze

BRUSHES ON THE SPEEDWAY. Better Sport on the Course-Leo S. Often a Winner.

Better sport was furnished at Speedway Park yesterday morning than has been witnessed there for some weeks. The honors were pretty evenly divided between James Murphy with Don Derby and Claus Boh in-behind his crack pair A. J. D. and Kingmoid behind his crack pair A. J. D. and Kingmoi d.
Don Derby was driven an exhibition mile and received an ovation at the finishing post.
Mr. Bohling also got a hearty greeting when A. J. D. and Kingmond stepped down the stretch at a lively pace.

The chestnut gelding Leo S. was driven to victory in several stirring brushes. In the first tilt Mr. Seelig sent him to try conclusions with James Murphy's Free Advice. This victory in several stirring brushes. In the first tilt Mr. Seelig sent him to try conclusions with James Murphy's Free Advice. This proved an easy victory for the Seelig gelding, and in his next brush he had for a competitor Christopher Hackett's bay mare Sally A. This was the closest brush of the morning, for although Sally led until near the finish Leo showed that he had speed in reserve and managed to put his nose on a line with the mares at the finish. An accident in the next heat left the issue undecided, A tire was lost from the rear wheel of the wagon which Leo S. was drawing and this put an end to his racing for the day.

Among the side wheelers L. Samuel's Sheldon's Lady came to the front. She finished first in every brush in which she was entered. Among the fast ones to concede defeat were W. J. Kinney's Tommy Burns, Walter Killpatrick's Gertle H., Bonnie Bendon, with Dr. Block at the reins, and the roan gelding Joe, driven by George Cooke.

Dr. Joseph Semen's Poco Estrella was another pacer who made a good showing. In her first trial of speed she defeated William Stetter's chestnut gelding Abbington. Her owner next sent her to tackle Tommy Burns. This too was a win for the mare, and then she was entered against Sally A. Mr. Hackett dropped out of the race, giving the victory over William Scott's Kitty Wilkes. Kitty's performance was not up to the mark and she was beaten by Norrie twice without forcing the gelding to extend himself. M. C. Reynolds, behind Annie O., and P. H. Kennedy with Lord Bromley had a series of brushes which resulted in an even break. When Mr. Kennedy sent Lord Bromley to tackle Charles Brooks behind Comet he had to be content with second honors.

Lizzie Pandit acquitted herself very creditably. Since her owner, George Huber, his parted with her sister Gracie, she has carried off the laurels of the Pandit family in a series of brushes with her stable companion, Nigger, she won a decided victory, Harry L. Toplitz drove Judge Boardman one winning brush against William Stetter's Abb
